Report for Visit of SDSC SHAR on 14.02.2020

III MPC, MPS & GPCA (Batch 2019-2020)

Dr.M.Obula Reddy, Dept of Physics, Co-Ordinator .

On 14th Feb, we went SDSC SHAR with 31 students and 4 Teaching faculty by Bus. At 9.30 we reached the gate -1 and checked by staff of ISRO. After we reached Library, left our luggage there, and went to Gate – II for second check up. Then, we were taken to Machine Control Centre (MCC). A video on the history of SHAR was shown us.

We went to first Launch Pad of the Satish Dhawan Space Centre. It is a rocket launch site in Sriharikota, It began operation in 1993. It is currently used by two launch vehicles of the ISRO: the Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle (PSLV) and the Geosynchronous Satellite Launch Vehicle (GSLV). It is one of two operational orbital launch pads at the site. They said it is Golden launch pad. Then, we moved to Second launch pad. We were explained on SLP design, supply, erection and commissioning by MECON Limited. It costed about Rs 400 Crores at that time. It was built in 2005 and became operational only on 5th May 2005 with the launching of PSLV-C6.

After lunch, we went to Nelapattu Bird Sanctuary in Nellore district. It has an area of 458.92 hectares. It is an important breeding site for spot-billed pelicans (Pelecanus philippensis). It has two major plant communities, Barringtonia swamp forests and southern dry evergreen Scrub. Southern dry evergreen scrub covers most of the sanctuary, including the 288 hectares of Kalluru Reserved Forest and 88 hectares of unreserved forest. The dominant tree and shrub species are Manilkara hexandra, Maba buxifolia, Memecylon edule, Buchanania angustifolia, Zizyphus xylopyrus, and others.

The Barringtonia swamp forest is found in the 83-ha Nelapattu tank. The predominant tree species is Barringtonia acutangula (Hijal). This tree also grows in uplands, but the tree species found at Nelapattu can grow in flooded conditions lasting for 5 to 7 months. The saplings can survive total submersion during the long duration of flooding.

Introduction

Aquaculture is the controlled cultivation of freshwater and saltwater aquatic organisms and plants. It is most commonly known as "fish farming," but it also includes many other tasks such as growing various aquatic plants and algae, developing chemical and pharmaceutical products that can benefit farmed products, scientific research, and population restoration of various species. Demand for fish and seafood has far outstripped supply in recent years, and aquaculture has helped bridge the gap and keep prices for fish and seafood low enough that people can afford to buy it. However, because it is a new field, practitioners still have a lot to learn about sustainable practices that don't harm the ocean and freshwater ecosystems.

Aquaculture also refers to the breeding of ornamental fish for fish tanks, which aids in the reduction of fish farming from their natural habitats and the preservation of marine life on reef ecosystems. Here's a look at some of the industry's challenges and developments, as well as why professionals are in high demand.

VALUE OF STUDY TOUR

Field research is an important component of the study of life sciences. Only classroom instruction cannot bring about a student's overall development. To broaden the student's mental horizons, they should be given an opportunity to gain direct and first hand experience in seeing things for themselves. One of the most interesting and useful experiences for a biology student is studying animals in their natural environment where all animals live in their natural habitat. This enhances the knowledge that we gained from classroom discussions and laboratory experiences in which we can observe, study, and experience. Another critical aspect is that comprehending knowledge of a new thing is always required for one of the beginnings of a particular study. And from such a field trip, one can hope to gain experience with the interaction of living things with their environment. In fact, classroom and field studies complement each other. It also provides students with a break from the monotony of daily classroom instruction by allowing them to spend a few hours in an informal setting. It also encourages students to learn science firsthand and piques their interest.

When students see the connection between science and society, scientific facts and principles become more real to them. Furthermore, students learn to collaborate with one another as well as with members of the community. As a result, it strengthens their critical thinking skills, allowing them to apply elements of the scientific method. Last but not least, it fosters leadership and self-confidence in students. Keeping all of this in mind, and in order to fulfil the practical requirements of our syllabus, our teacher took a keen interest in organising such a study tour for us.

OBJECTIVE OF THE STUDY TOUR :

- To collect and observe with identify the fauna of Mypadu beach.
- To study the Labs and the field of CFSC college at Muthukur,Nellore-A.P
- To observe the habitat of the collected species.
- To take photograph of the collected species for documentation.

TOUR REPORT

We arrived at the Department of Zoology, Loyola Degree College (YSRR) Pulivendula, YSR Kadapa-A.P at around 5.20 a.m. on Friday, March 11, 2022. Our teachers instructed us to assemble them in front of the Venkata Ramana Swamy temple in Pulivendula, where there are 23 students and two teaching faculty—a total of 25 people. During the assembly, we are instructed about the journey's do's and don'ts, as well as the purpose of the trip. We are then instructed to proceed to the hired mini bus. At around 9 a.m., we took our breakfast on Badvel.

The associate dean of CFSC college passed on instructions that were extremely beneficial to us during our study tour and assigned field work to Dr. Anand sir. Muthukur, he also provides us with a waiting room inside the CFSC. Depending on the tour, we participate in a variety of activities. Some of the aquatic fishes collected with the assistance of a fisherman and demonstrated by Prof. Anand sir will be explained in detail. While others are photographing various available animals as well as the beautiful. The first half of the tour concludes around 2.30 p.m., and we have lunch around 3 p.m. at the Annapurna Hotel in Muthukur.

After lunch, we continue with the second part of our visit to Mypadu Beach and the collection of various mussels outside. And we also interacted with the locals to learn about the locally available diversity of fishes in the Coastal-line, after which we enjoyed the beach with our friends. Finally, at 6 p.m., we arrived at Nellore Mayura Residency, took a one-hour break, and then went to MG Shopping Mall to look around and buy some things. The next day, at 6.30 a.m., we began our journey to Penchalakona Punyaxetram. We arrived in Penchalakona around 10 a.m., and after dharshan, we went to Somasila Reservoir. We finished our lunch in Badvel around 3.30pm. Finally, at 7.20 p.m., we arrived at Pulivendula.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is our great pleasure to have this opportunity, and we would like to express our gratitude to everyone involved in organising this tour; without such an endeavor as this study tour, it would have been impossible for me to bring out the following report. In fact, participating in and organising the tour was a fantastic experience for us.

It is also our great pleasure to express our heartfelt appreciation to our beloved Principal Rev.Fr.Dr.T.Amala Arockiya Raj for his support and encouragement throughout the tour.

We also expressed our heartfelt gratitude to Mr.V.Uday Kiran, HOD of Zoology, and Mr.K.Hari Prakash, Department of Zoology, without whose valuable guidance, advice, and personal assistance, and to our classmates for their eager co-operation rendered to us.

Finally, but not least, we would like to thank the CFSC, Muthukur-Nellore, AP for the grant that was necessary to carry out the trip.

Importance of Quiz competitions for students:

Quizzes require students to work in groups, allowing them to develop their teamwork abilities. Recruiters have discovered during interviews that students are strong in theoretical knowledge but lack industrial understanding due to the traditional curriculum structure. Quizzing will continue to evolve as we work to improve student learning. Despite the availability of technologies, the content must come first. Examining involves more than simply general knowledge; it also involves making connections, interpreting hidden meanings, and drawing conclusions. It must emphasize rational thinking.

- Quizzes help one gain a broad or specialized understanding of a subject.
- Quizzes are intended to encourage fun learning methods while also enhancing general knowledge.
- Students can "think outside the box" or from diverse perspectives by participating in quiz tournaments.

Aim of Elocution competitions:

An elocution competition is the art of public speaking that gives us self-boost and confidence to speak in front of a large audience. It enables children to create a connect with the audience who is listening to them through voice modulation. When the child is reciting, he/she brims boundless energy and resilience.

The bond between teacher and student reflects in the elocution competition as the teacher guides the child from choosing the topic to helping the child practice it multiple times. It can be challenging for introvert students who have never experienced public speaking, but the teacher/mentor resolves that and brings out the best in students.

Scope of Biological instruments

Biology Laboratory in colleges and schools is where we learn about different biological aspects of nature. We explore cells & tissues of plants and animals through a compound microscope, learn about the bones and body structure through Human Skelton, visualize important organs like the heart through biological models & learn different organ systems through educational charts. Further, we also explore various species through preserved specimens kept in Glass jars.

Group discussion:

A group discussion tests the teamwork and communication skills of candidates. A group discussion involves a discussion on a given topic with other candidates, usually with similar experience and educational qualifications. Performing well in a group discussion helps you to get noticed and practicing for one improves your public speaking skills.

Importance of Quiz competitions for students:

Quizzes require students to work in groups, allowing them to develop their teamwork abilities. Recruiters have discovered during interviews that students are strong in theoretical knowledge but lack industrial understanding due to the traditional curriculum structure. Quizzing will continue to evolve as we work to improve student learning. Despite the availability of technologies, the content must come first. Examining involves more than simply general knowledge; it also involves making connections, interpreting hidden meanings, and drawing conclusions. It must emphasize rational thinking.

- Quizzes help one gain a broad or specialized understanding of a subject.
- Quizzes are intended to encourage fun learning methods while also enhancing general knowledge.
- Students can "think outside the box" or from diverse perspectives by participating in quiz tournaments.

Importance of Animal Physiology :

They ensure that the physiological processes of different cells, tissues and organs occur in a controlled and coordinated manner, and result in whole-body homeostasis.

Role on Genetically mutated animals

Genetically modified animals uses - Most animals that are GMOs are produced for use in laboratory research. These animals are used as “models” to study the function of specific genes and, typically, how the genes relate to health and disease. Some GMO animals, however, are produced for human consumption.
